An overview of how humanitarian actors have accessed, used, and responded to IMPACT's activities over the course of 2020. The data shown below is retrieved from IMPACT's Global Monitoring and Evaluation report, sourcing information from partners, donors, and other actors present on the ground

62 information products published across 17 different research cycles (RCs)

Approximately 5,500 downloads of information products from digital platforms online

REACH cited over 10 times in strategic documents including: NRC's ECHO proposals

15+ organisations engaged in different capacities

Shaping operational planning on the ground

Urban Cash consortium has reportedly been using the Nairobi and Mombasa Informal Settlement PDM factsheets to understand the status of household beneficiaries receiving cash transfers.

The consortium has also reportedly used data from Arid and Semi-Arid Lands (ASAL) counties to inform their cash disbursements in these areas.

Findings from cash and market assessments in Nairobi and Mombasa were highlighted to raise key concerns during an advocacy event organised by Oxfam (see here at 1:36:15).

Informing strategic planning and decision-making

Donors (BPRM & NRC) are moving funding towards camp based settings, based on 2020 REACH camp assessments' findings.

Multisectoral Needs Assessment (MSNA) findings informed other strategic planning and decision-making, including contributions to 2021 proposal developments for partner organisations.

Adapting to COVID-19:

- Effectively shifted to remote data collection methods where appropriate.
- Produced information products using data collected in recent months to highlight areas where population groups more vulnerable to COVID-19 may be present.
